

30/08/12

Yr 7 Scripture Report

So far the scripture has been going well. There has been the usual pushing of boundaries by the kids.

Each class has had good attendance with about 85-90% attendance. There has been a little bit of confusion for the kids with the timetable structure and the change in Deputy Principal probably not helping the situation. The students have been given the wrong times for classes or are just unsure of when they are supposed to be in scripture.

The lesson plans have been going well, the class interaction has been good with only minimal disruptions, the kids have been more restless in the afternoon classes than in the morning classes, but this is just to be expected.

The response from the staff at the school seems to be good, I have not heard of any complaints regarding the classes.

A few things that need to be worked at would be the notification of the classes to the students; they seem confused as to when they have the class. The teachers may need to be made aware of the changes in classes each day to allow for the students to be told.